

AMPC Members

AMPC members are major industrial electricity purchasers in the Pulp and Paper, Solid Wood/Other Wood Products, Mining, Electrochemical and Petrochemical sectors within BC. Several AMPC members have facilities at multiple locations, some of which would be considered large commercial or small industrial. Various AMPC members have significant cogeneration and renewable generation facilities.

To learn more about membership in AMPC, please contact:

Richard Stout
Executive Director

604.366.4184
richard@ampcbc.ca

Association of Major Power Customers of BC

www.ampcbc.ca

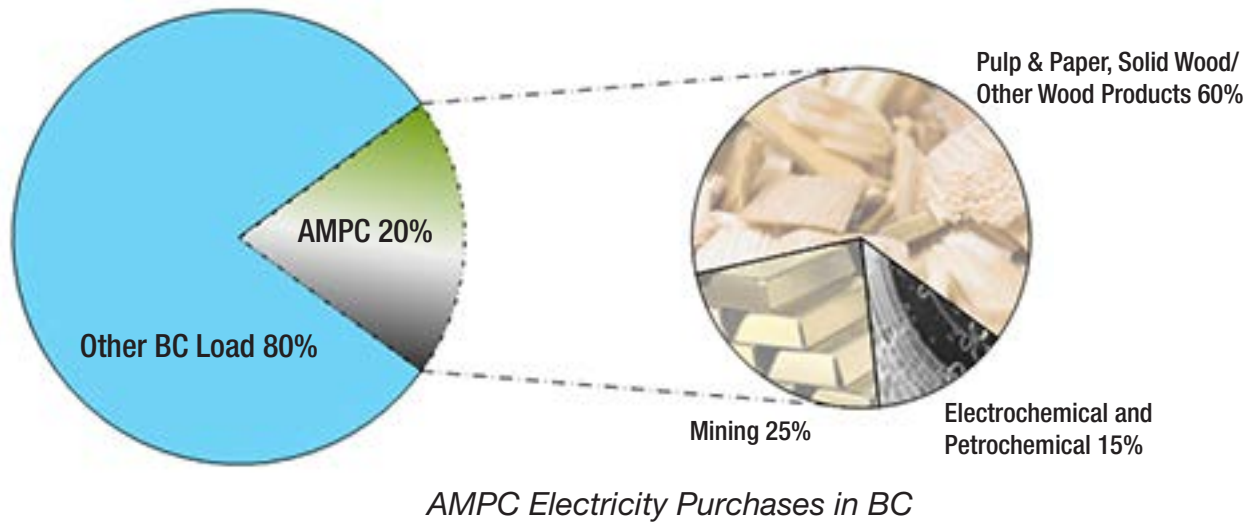

AMPC

Association of Major
Power Customers
of BC

Association of Major Power Customers of BC

The Association of Major Power Customers of BC (AMPC) is a registered not-for-profit society whose members are major industrial electricity purchasers in BC. AMPC's membership includes the Pulp and Paper, Solid Wood/Other Wood Products, Mining, Electrochemical and Petrochemical sectors. AMPC exists for the primary purpose of representing its members' interests concerning electricity regulatory and policy issues arising with respect to electricity supply within BC and in particular reliability, security of supply and electricity rates and tariffs.

www.ampcb.ca

Benefits of Joining AMPC

Bottom line investment with the aim to achieve electricity cost savings

AMPC provides the avenue to represent industrial interests in regulatory proceedings and electricity policy matters. Through participation in these proceedings, AMPC has been able to achieve electricity cost savings that affect your business' bottom line.

Communication

Electricity issues can be complex. AMPC provides ongoing information, communication and support to its members on electricity issues that affect your business.

Stronger voice

With AMPC's united stance, industrial interests are better represented resulting in a stronger voice on issues relating to electricity policy.

Association of Major Power Customers of BC